FRANK OWENS HARDWARE COMPANY wish it known that they have not sold all the plows they advertised. Have as yet a number of turning, hillside and double shovels that must be sold. Now is the time to buy plows cheap.

MR. CHARLES ROSENAU, of the "Beehive," is at home after spending several weeks in the East. He assures the many patrons of that establishment that they can expect soon the choicest bargains in seasonable dry goods, notions, etc.

Dr. Charles E. Proctor, of Mt. Carmel, died this morning at 12:30 o'clock, of pneumonia. The funeral services will be held next Friday morning in the Christian Church at that place, and will be conducted by Elder W. A. Morrison.

THERE will be a lecture at the court house Tuesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m., by Rev. Mrs. Flora Thompson, of Ohio. Subject: "The Three Ages of Christ's Church." Call at the drug store of J. J. or Geo. T. Wood for tickets. Admission 25 cents. dlt

On a tombstone in a certain cemetery in East Tennessee is the following epitaph following the name of the deceased with dates of birth and death: "She lived a life of virtue and died of cholera morbus caused by eating green fruit in the hope of a blessed immortality. Go thou and do likewise."

THE Daily Star of Charleston, W. Va., says: "The party given on last Thursday evening by Miss Katie Noyes at her elegant home on Quarrier street was one of the most elegant social events of the season. It was given in honor of the Misses Means of Maysville, Ky., Miss Katie's charming guests, and was a source of sincere pleasure to all who attended. Nearly fifty couples responded to the invitations, and after being most cordially received by Mrs. Noyes, Miss Katie and the Misses Means, were ushered into the handsome parlors and a short time later dancing was begun, which was continued well on into the 'wee sma' hours' of morning. About midnight refreshments of the choicest character were served, which were thoroughly appreciated by everyone and, after a short interval, dancing was again resumed. Too much cannot be said in praise of the genial hostesses who did all in their power to add to the pleasure of the occasion and how well they succeeded is best evinced by the hearty words of praise from all of their guests. The event will long be pleasantly remembered."

THE NEW CHARTER.

The Council Wants to Monopolize the Election of City Officials.

Protests Against the New Boundary. What Was Done at Last Night's Meeting.

When the roll was called at the meeting of the Council last evening all members were present except Messrs. Pecor, Triplett and Wood. Messrs. Triplett and Wood afterwards came in.

The consideration of the new charter was resumed. Mr. Fitzgerald presented a remonstrance from W. H. Yancey, N. Clooney, I. N. Foster (agent), Daniel Shafer, Ed. L. Hill, N. Gollenstein, J. L. Browning (executor), Alfred Singleton (colored), owners of the property taken in by the new boundary. They earnestly protested against their property being incorporated in the city limits. Mr. Wadsworth moved to lay the remonstrance on the table, but the motion was withdrawn. Mr. Fitzgerald moved to strike out the objectionable feature, but his motion was declared out of order.

Mr. Ficklin moved to reconsider the clause adopted Monday evening, making all persons ineligible to the office of Councilman who are directly or indirectly interested in a contract with the city or in an application for a contract with the city. Mr. Wadsworth seconded the motion. It was adopted. Mr. Ficklin then moved to strike out the clause referred to and this was seconded by Mr. Wadsworth. The motion was warmly opposed by Mr. Fitzgerald and one or two others. They asked Mr. L. W. Robertson's opinion of the clause. That gentleman was decidedly in favor of it. He said he and Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, who prepared the charter, inserted the clause referred to simply because they thought it ought to be in the charter. It was right and proper, and just to the people that all who were interested in a contract with the city or in an application for such a contract should be shut out of the Council. It would prevent jobs. Mr. Pearce, Salsbury, Blatterman and others thought the words "directly or indirectly" were too broad in their scope and that the clause would make nearly everybody ineligible. The vote to strike it out was a speed, only Messrs. Fitzgerald, Shannon, R. dy and Triplett voting against it.

The Mayor must be 21 years old and a bonafide citizen of the city two years before his election. A clause requiring him to be a housekeeper was stricken out. His term of office shall be two years. He is made chief executive officer of the city, may call special meetings of Council, shall act as City Judge in the absence of that official, and shall see that all contracts with the city are enforced. He is to be elected by a vote of the people. His salary shall not exceed $1,000. No one shall be eligible to the office of Mayor for more than two consecutive terms.

The judicial power of the city is vested in a city court presided over by a Police Judge, who shall be elected every two years by the people. He shall preside at the trial of all violations of the city ordinances. He must be 21 years of age, an elector of the State and a resident of the city at least two years before he is elected. He may act as his own clerk (or appoint a clerk) and may charge the fees clerks of city courts are entitled to. Council shall fix his salary at not exceeding $500, exclusive of his fees. Mr. Fitzgerald moved to strike out all the section in reference to the Police Judge but the motion was lost, yeas 4, nays 10.

The City Attorney must be a citizen of the city, and a regular licensed attorney. He shall prosecute all offenders in the city court and shall be allowed $2 in each case where he prosecutes, to be taxed and collected as costs. He shall also be entitled to 30 per cent of all fines where he appears and prosecutes. Council may give him a salary in addition to his fees. He shall hold his office for one year, being elected annually by Council. He shall attend to all legal affairs of the city.

The City Clerk must be a qualified voter. He must keep a complete record of the proceedings of the council and perform such other clerical duties as may be required. Must copy the Assessor's books and issue all licenses. He shall be elected annually by the Council. He shall be entitled to 50 cents for each license he issues, and Council may allow him a salary in addition, not exceeding $500 annually.

The City Marshal must be over 21 years old, and a resident of the city. He shall be elected by the people and hold office two years. His bond is placed at $2,500. He shall serve all process and notices from the city court. He shall be allowed the same fees as Sheriff's are in similar cases, but Council may pay him a stated sum in lieu of such fees. He shall patrol the city at least once every twenty-four hours. He shall be keeper of the work house, and may be allowed a reasonable compensation therefor.

The City Treasurer shall be twenty-one years old and shall hold office one year. His bond shall be not less than $20,000. He shall collect all taxes. The Council shall fix his salary, but it shall not exceed $1,000 a year. He shall be elected by Council.

The Assessor's salary shall not exceed $250 a year. He shall be elected annually, by the Council.

Taxes shall be due and payable June 1st each year. If not paid on or before the 10th of August following, 5 per cent thereof shall be added as a penalty. If taxes are not paid by the first of November each year, the Treasurer shall proceed to collect same by levy and sale.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald the clause in reference to the poll tax was changed so that said tax shall not exceed $1.50.

All elections by the people shall be by ballot. The Mayor shall give twenty days' notice of all elections by proclamation published in two papers. Bribery, vote-buying and illegal voting shall be punishable as such offenses are punished under the State law. Council may pass ordinances regulating the manner of holding elections and to keep all persons away from the polls, except judges of election and the elector as he casts his vote.

At this point in the consideration of the charter, a registration law prepared by Mr. Fitzgerald was read and inserted. It provides for a thorough registration of all qualified voters at least two weeks before all regular and special city elections, and fixes severe penalties for any violation of its provisions.

The Council may establish a system of graded public schools, to be under the supervision of a Board of Education, who may compel all children between the ages of six and sixteen years to attend school regularly, except in cases of sickness or where it is deemed necessary for the child to labor for its support. A clause was inserted giving Council the power to establish a system of night schools and require all children of the ages referred to to attend at least two hours each day where they fail to attend day school.

The charter is to be drawn up in final form and sent on as soon as possible to Frankfort for action by the Legislature.

BEGGED FOR HIS LIFE.

Further Particulars of the Attempted Outrage at Concord Last Saturday.

Mention was made yesterday that F. H. Pratt, a book agent from Ohio, had been jail at Vanceburg for attempting to commit a rape at Concord last Saturday. Further particulars are learned from a dispatch to the Enquirer.

The scoundrel travels for the American Publishing Company of Cleveland, Ohio. The victim of his lustful assault is Mrs. John Queen, Jr., who resides near Concord.

The offense was committed in the absence of the husband, and while the woman was alone. However, Mr. Queen returned soon after the book agent had hurriedly left. Upon being told of the crime he started in pursuit with a shotgun, and soon overtook the fellow, who ran, but was brought to a halt by being shot at, the charge only penetrating his clothing. He then threw his hands up and pleaded that his life be spared, which was granted by the irate husband. He was taken to Concord and soon had his examining trial, and in default of bail was sent to jail. Mrs. Queen is a daughter of Dr. Layton, a prominent physician and Ex-Representative of Lewis County who died several years ago.
